CONSTELLATION EMPLOYEES TEAM-UP WITH HOUSTON HABITAT AT HARRELL PARK

HOUSTON (October, 2014) – On Tuesday, October 7th Houston Habitat for Humanity will host 140 Constellation employee volunteers in the Harrell Park community in northeast Houston. Volunteers will roll up their sleeves to build walls for new Habitat homes and provide an irrigation system that will help sustain a beautiful neighborhood and environment for the families who are soon to be homeowners.

“Constellation’s generous support speaks to its commitment to underserved communities and Houston Habitat for Humanity,” said Bill Wong, Board Chair for Houston Habitat for Humanity. “Their commitments to weatherize older Habitat homes and provide energy upgrades for new have helped residents realize greater energy efficiency and lower bills. Further, their ongoing volunteer support truly makes difference as Habitat advances affordable home ownership opportunities for deserving Houstonians.”

The employee volunteer event is part of Constellation’s continued commitment to Houston Habitat for Humanity, including nearly $100,000 to fund weatherization of existing Houston Habitat homes to increase energy efficiency.

“For Constellation, helping customers buy, manage and use energy more efficiently is key to our business, so it is very meaningful for us to be able to provide energy improvements and critical savings for Houston Habitat families,” said Bruce Stewart, Senior Vice President and Chief Marketing Officer for Constellation. “Being able to bring our team out to volunteer on the build site for a day is another great opportunity to support Habitat’s efforts in the Houston community.”
